

We – MicroApps s.r.o. – are looking for English and French speaking DATA ANALYSTS and BUSINESS ANALYST for our international activities in north and sub-Saharan Africa. The project is about implementing new Data warehouse in financial sector and about next support. There is a requirement to do the part of work from the final destination countries supported by colleagues from Ivory Coast, Senegal and Morocco.

Following description / requirements are meant to be expected in 1-2 months after training which we will provide. We do not persist strictly on each of them, we have a very good team which is ready to help and train you. So don't be afraid to apply even if you don't feel strong in some areas.

Main Responsibilities:

- Communication with our client, identification and analysis of client's requirements and processing them
- Working on structured analytic concepts and development of detailed conceptual solution
- Design and description of data models, data transformation and data mapping
- Documentation of developed solutions
- Data assessment, preparing of inputs for our team of developers, preparing of testing scenarios and execution of some tests
- Design of reports and way, how to fill them with proper data
- Sharing of experience among team members, active approach to our clients and spreading the good name of NESS

Knowledge and skills we expect:

- Fluent French and very good English is a must
- Technical background
- Very good presentation and communication skills
- Knowledge of SQL is a must (you need to know how to find needed data in the DWH to discuss it)
- Analytical, systematic and structured thinking
- Team orientated person
- Willing to travel or to live in the mentioned countries
- Experiences with data modeling with some Case tools (Power Designer, Enterprise Architect) is a big plus

What we can offer you:

- Long-term contract
- Interesting remuneration
- Working on unique and big project managed by one of the most significant financial institute
- The opportunity to gain experience in the multinational company
- Professional and personal development possibilities
- The opportunity for personal fulfillment

Should you have any comments or willing to share your CV

Lukáš Texl

lukas.texl@lufisuite.com

777605080